—We had the pleasure of meeting our old friend, W. S. Dray, now the efficient and popular postmaster of Savannah, this state, and also the editor of the Savannah Democrat. Will, at one time, was in the newspaper business in Oregon for a few months. We are glad Will was appointed P. M., and that he is also prospering. He is worthy, competent and deserving. He was enroute to Mound City, on invitation of his old friend, Ed. Shellenberger, to come up and go up to Langdon with him on a fishing trip, as crapple and bass were biting good. Wish we could go. —The Missouri river below Forest

Here's good luck to both of you.

The Missouri river below Forest City is cutting the land away by the acre and John Shaiffer has been compelled to move his barn back several hundred feet. The river is also making severe inroads near the White Cloud boat landing, up close to the Charles A. Moser, Samuel Alkire, H. A. Bowles and other farms in that neighborhood. While the river has fell five or six feet, but at this period is where the cutting is done. It is to be hoped some remedy can be instituted that will stop the ravages at this point, before these fine lands are engulfed into the rapacious maw of the Missouri.
